

<<(难忘越南战争)VIETNAM, NOW>>

图书基本信息

书名：<<(难忘越南战争)VIETNAM, NOW>>

13位ISBN编号：9781586480899

10位ISBN编号：1586480898

出版时间：2002年5月1日

出版时间：The Perseus Books Group

作者：David Lamb

页数：274

版权说明：本站所提供下载的PDF图书仅提供预览和简介，请支持正版图书。

更多资源请访问：<http://www.tushu007.com>

内容概要

THIRTY YEARS after he covered the war as a young combat correspondent, David Lamb returned to Vietnam to cover the peace. He moved into an apartment in downtown Hanoi, the city he once viewed as the "enemy" capital, and began exploring the new Vietnam, a country emerging from years of political and economic isolation. For four years Lamb crisscrossed the country, interviewing personalities from Vietnam's dark days--figures such as the legendary general, Vo Nguyen Giap, and the wartime voice of Hanoi's propaganda machine, Hanoi Hannah--and scores of uncelebrated Vietnamese: students, former soldiers, shopkeepers, Communist Party members, and returning boat people. He roamed from Sapa on the Chinese border to Dien Bien Phu, Khe Sanh, and Can Tho in the depths of the Mekong Delta. He met with young engineers on the Ho Chi Minh trail, once the world's deadliest road. He joined a group of former Viet Cong and American GIs seeking reconciliation at the very fire support base where they had fought deadly battles. He explored the charming back alleyways of Hanoi and tasted the giddy excitement of a booming Saigon. Vietnam, Now is the result of David Lamb's explorations. He takes us deep inside a nation rich in history, culture, and bittersweet memories of war. Through intimate stories of personal encounters, he explains why Vietnam has managed to bury the residue of war, in many ways more effectively than the United States has, and why the Vietnamese now welcome American diplomats, tourists, and businesspeople with a warmth that defies logic. What emerges is a portrait of a remarkable country and a resolute people. Lamb's journey is one that will change the way we think of Vietnam, and perhaps the war as well.

作者简介：DAVID LAMB is the 04 newspaper correspondent from the Vietnam War to later live in peacetime Hanoi . A distinguished Los Angeles Times journalist who has reported from more than a hundred countries , he is the author of five previous books on topics as diverse as modern-day Africa and minor league baseball . He has been a Nieman Fellow, an Alicia Peterson Fellow, a Pew Journalist-in-Residence and a writer-in-residence at the University of Southern California ' S School of Journalism.

书籍目录

Introduction1 Hanoi:City on the Bend in the River2 One Family3 The Making of Vietnam4 Saigon:From Wartime Turmoil to Peacetime Prosperity5 Reflections on the Fall of Saigon6 In Search of a Peace Dividend7 The Ups and Downs of Doi Moi8 Who Runs Vietnam?9 Awaiting the Passing of the Torch10 The Painful Art of Reconciliation11 The Missing12 The Viet Kieu:Strong Brains,Deep Pockets13 The Road South14 ClosureAcknowledgmentsPhoto Credits

版权说明

本站所提供下载的PDF图书仅提供预览和简介, 请支持正版图书。

更多资源请访问:<http://www.tushu007.com>