内容概要

Tianjin, pioneering seaport metropolis, city of inventive past and unique culture. Inspired, perhaps, by the dancing waters of the Bohai Gulf, Tianjin became: a naval pioneer - birth-place of modern shipyards and China's first submarine; a communications pioneer - a post-route to all parts and home of China's first railway, postal service, cables and telephones; a cultural pioneer - with China's first university degree, museum, women's newspaper; a financial pioneer with its own "Wall Street", and industrial pioneer with world-class innovations. But pioneering has not obliterated tradition - Tianjin is a city of legend and age-old customs and cuisine - never more so than at Chinese New Year. These elements unite to make the commercial metropolis and major port of Tianjin, with 600 years of unique history and innovation, Tianjin is responding with confidence to the challenges of the 21st century.
