章节摘录

版权页： 插图： During the first two periods, tourism studies were concerned about tourism theories including the basis, the nature, and the social effects of tourism activities. And in the last period, tourism case studies were conducted by many scholars to explore the tourism strategies in different places. For example, Dieke (1991) examined the main features of tourism development and the problems of development in Kenya, and drew from the analysis several policy-oriented conclusions for which new planning directions are required. In addition, in 1993, Dieke did another case study. The author examined the issue of tourism development in The Gambia. After an investigation of the inherent problems associated with its development and the underlying causes, and an analysis of the government policies, institutional arrangements for tourism, the tourism support programs and their relation to development policy, the author argued that "the country must develop policies and programs that are cautious and flexible and to make its tourism competitive, and within a planned and coherent framework appropriate to the needs of its citizens." (423). Browne (1989) took some reservations in western India as a case to note that tourism offers the greatest potential for economic development. The author suggested that a recognition of the advantages of tribal control of tourism development and a complete understanding of their tourism markets would not only increase the economic independence, but also lead to a force for cultural revitalization and maintenance of cultural identity, self-esteem, and self-determination, and a means of increasing understanding of Indian culture.

《纳家户多元叙事的意义(英文)》选择宁夏回族自治区永宁县纳家户村为研究对象，主要因为宁夏大多数穆斯林村落位于偏远山区或川区且建村历史较短，还未经历或者正处于现代旅游开发的初步阶段，因此村寨变迁的轨迹还不明显。

拥有百余年历史的纳家户回族村离首府银川市较近，近十几年来伴随着银川的发展，经历了大规模的深度旅游开发，村寨意义也由此发生了天翻地覆的变化，因而为笔者进行“纳家户村落”这五个字的意义研究提供了客观条件。

此外，居住在纳家户的纳氏祖先定居宁夏至今已有几百年的历史，因此可供考证的历史文献、古籍、方志、府志等史料也较为充足，从而为笔者对纳家户意义的探索提供了宝贵的历史文献资料。从方法论的角度来讲，国内英语语言文学专业运用人类学的方法搜集分析文本的案例不多，对文化意义进行谱系学研究的案例也十分有限。
