章节摘录

Americans love sports—they love to play them , to watch them on television and totalk about them. But this hobby sometimes has serious results—at least to the players. Fo~example , when people pay tennis , sometimes they hurt their elbow ( 肘部 ) and in this waythey develop"tennis elbow". Also it is easy to hurt a knee in a football game. These in-juries ( 损伤 ) happen while the player is having fun , but they still hurt.

A few months ago , Kathleen Simmons , who loves playing volleyball , hurt her knee ina volleyball game. Her doctor told her that she needed a very difficult operation ( 手术 ) or she might not be able to play again. She felt very sad and didnt know what to do. Then Simmons learned about" video operation". With the help of this new sciencein. medicine , doctors can now repair many injuries and get people back on the playingfield and back to their jobs much faster. Simmons found a hospital that was using thisnew science and went to see the doctor there. The doctors told her the operation couldhelp. For this operation , her doctor didnt have to open her knee. Instead he put a verysmall camers lens ( 镜头 ) inside her knee. The lens sent back pictures , which appearedon a television screen. As he worked , he could see the inside of her knee on the TV. With the help of the large pictures on the screen , the doctor knew exactly what to do whenhe was making the repairs. ....
