<<新闻英语听力大突破>>

前言

英语学习是通过整合、加工和处理语言信息的过程来实现的。

阅读和听力是人们接受语言信息的重要途径，而良好的听力水平是人们语言交际的重要前提。

在实际生活中，由于语言学习者往往无法控制所听语言材料的语速、语言清晰度以及说话人的言语表达特点，因此，对于一些语言学习者来说，要做到在有限的时间内准确地理解并掌握说话人的意思是一项具有相当难度的学习任务。

听的能力不仅与听的技巧及其熟练程度直接相关，而且与听者的说、读、写的语言能力、文化知识以及思维能力等都有密切的关系。

提高听力的过程是一个不断掌握技巧、丰富社会文化背景知识，同时锻炼分析归纳能力、推理判断能力的综合性训练和实践过程。

在各种各样的听力素材中，英语新闻因为其内容广泛、难度层次明晰、发音标准等特点，而受到广大英语学习者和爱好者的喜爱，收听英语新闻是提高听力能力的一个重要手段。

练好英语听力，其实并无捷径可走，只有经常听、反复听。

《新闻英语听力大突破》正是为迎合广大英语学习者和爱好者的这种需要而特别奉献，其核心就是突破、突破、再突破。

本套丛书所有听力内容素材均来自于国外著名电台、电视台的每日新闻播报和英语学习栏目，新闻内容涉及政治、经济、娱乐、体育、科技等方面，篇幅长短适中，鲜活生动、丰富有趣。

章节摘录

House Committee on Homeland Security about how the Internet has become the weapon of choice for terrorists and other radicals. Their testimony comes in the wake of the passage in the House of the Violent Radicalization and Homegrown Terrorism Prevention Act of 2007. The centerpiece of that legislation is the creation of a National Commission to study violent radicalization and to determine the best way to combat it. Bruce Hoffman, a professor at Georgetown University says the near limitless communications options the Internet provides such groups is essential to their survival. "Without an effective communications strategy, a terrorist movement would be unable to assure a continued flow of new recruits into its ranks, motivate and inspire existing members as well as expand the pool of active supporters and passive sympathizers from which terrorism also draws its sustenance," he said. Rita Katz of the private SITE Institute, which tracks terrorist websites, says the Internet enables terror groups such as al-Qaida to exist despite the money the United States and other nations spend to fight them on the ground. "Though guns, IEDs (improvised explosive devices) and other weapons are necessary for terrorists to remain dangerous, the Internet is what enables them to coordinate, share information, recruit new members and propagate their ideology. If we do not treat the Internet as a crucial battleground in the war on terror we will not be able to defeat the jihadist threat. The virtual jihadi network has replaced al-Qaida training camps," she said. The Internet is a tool not just for Islamic radicals, but for all types of extremists.

Parry Aftab, an attorney who specializes in Internet issues that affect children, says these groups are using the Web to recruit bored, middle-class young people with access to technology. "Kids who would have never been exposed to this otherwise -- who are not Muslims, who are not normally interested in radical groups, who see it as a way to become included, a way to become famous, a way to become in (popular), a way to find a place to belong," she said.
