<<中国少数民族医药保健>>

内容概要

Medicine and healing have always played a central role in human civilization . China's traditional medicine comprises three distinct aspects : traditional Chinese medicine , national medicine and folk medicine . National medicine refers to the traditional medicine of Chinese minority ethnic groups . As a united , multi-national country , the Chinese nation comprises the Han ethnic group and 55 minorities . These minorities have accumulated a rich storehouse of medical knowledge and practical experience accumulated over the course of many centuries . Traditional medicine forms a key element in the rich tapestry that is Chinese ethnic culture .
