

<<中国哲学思想>>

图书基本信息

书名：<<中国哲学思想>>

13位ISBN编号：9787508513195

10位ISBN编号：7508513193

出版时间：2010-1

出版时间：五洲传播出版社

作者：温海明，温海明 译

页数：152

版权说明：本站所提供下载的PDF图书仅提供预览和简介，请支持正版图书。

更多资源请访问：<http://www.tushu007.com>

内容概要

This book aims to explore Chinese philosophical characteristics of different philosophers in various periods, and distinguish "Chinese philosophical sensibility" motivating their thoughts. In doing so, the author employs Western philosophical categories to describe different issues in the history of philosophy: Chinese political philosophy in pre-Qin era, Chinese metaphysics from Han to Tang Dynasties, Chinese epistemology from Song to Ming Dynasties, and modern Chinese-Western comparative philosophy. The author provides readers with a clear conception of Chinese philosophical sensibility and its evolution throughout history.

作者简介

Dr. Haiming Wen received his Ph.D. on comparative philosophy from University of Hawaii in 2006. He is now an assistant professor in the School of Philosophy, Renmin University of China. He was once an East-West Center (EWC) affiliate, with Wing-tsit Chan Fellowship from University of Hawaii. Afterwards he taught in the Department of Philosophy, Peking University as a post-doctoral fellow. He is teaching Chinese philosophy in Renmin University of China and American CIEE/IES programs in both Chinese and English. He has published more than ten journal articles in both English and Chinese. He is the director assistant of the Center for Chinese and Comparative Philosophy in Renmin University of China, and director for the Office of International Affairs, School of Philosophy. He is assisting Roger Ames to edit "International Studies on Confucianism" series for Peking University Press. He is a member of American Philosophical Association (APA), American Chinese Philosophers Association (ACPA), International Society for Chinese Philosophy (ISCP), International Society for Chinese and Western Philosophies (ISCWP) etc. He has been invited to present more than 20 papers in the United States, Chinese mainland and Taiwan in English and Chinese. He has published an English book titled Confucian Pragmatism as the Art of Contextualizing Personal Experience and World.

书籍目录

Introduction: What Is Chinese Philosophy
 Zhouyi: The Starting Point of Chinese Philosophy
 A Mystical and Profound Classic
 From Taiji to Eight Trigrams
 The Philosophy of Zhouyi
 Chinese Political Philosophy: Pre-Qin Philosophers
 Confucius (Kongzi): Family Reverence as the Root of Humanity
 Mencius (Mengzi): Governing the State with Humane Love
 Laozi: The Great Dao is like Water
 Zhuangzi: Wandering at Ease without Self
 Mozi and Other Pre-Qin Thinkers
 Xunzi's Political Theory
 Hanfei's Art of Rulership
 Sunzi's Art of War
 Chinese Metaphysics: Interpretations of the World from Hanto Tang Dynasties
 Chinese Cosmology in the Han Dynasty
 The Ontology of Being and Nothingness in Wei-Jin Dynasties
 Chinese Metaphysics of Emptiness (Sunyata): Buddhism in Sui and Tang Dynasties
 Chan Buddhism: Enlightening Buddhist Wisdom in Smiling
 Chinese Epistemology: Song-Ming Philosophers on the Relationship between Mind-heart and Things/events
 From Han Yu to Zhang Zai
 Cheng Brothers and the "Luo School"
 Zhu Xi: Extinguishing Human Desires in Order to Keep Heavenly Li
 Lu Jiuyuan: The Cosmos Does not Exist without Mind
 Wang Yangming: Nothing is Outside One's Mind
 The Dao of Chinese Philosophy: Its Sustainment and Creativity
 Three Philosophers between Ming and Qing Dynasties
 Modern Chinese Philosophy as Responses to Western Philosophies
 Modern Chinese Philosophy: New Confucianism and East-West Comparative Philosophy
 Hu Shi, Fung Yu-lan, and the Discipline of Modern Chinese Philosophy
 Xiong Shili and New Confucianism
 Contemporary East-West Comparative Philosophical Terms
 Appendix I: Table of Key Philosophical Terms
 Appendix II: Timeline of Chinese and Western Philosophies
 Appendix III: Chronological Table of the Chinese Dynasties

版权说明

本站所提供下载的PDF图书仅提供预览和简介，请支持正版图书。

更多资源请访问:<http://www.tushu007.com>