章节摘录

Today, [ am pleased to attend the opening ceremony of the China-US Midwest Cooperation Forum. First of all, on behalf of the Chinese People's Association for Friendship with Foreign Countries, [ would like to extend my sincere welcome to the participants, especially participants from the US, who came across the ocean to attend the Forum. On this occasion, I also would like to extend my sincere gratitude to the other organizers of the Forum, namely, Henan Provincial People's Government, Government of the State of Kansas, the American Midwest US-China Association, for your enormous work in the Forum. As you know, this year is the 30th anniversary of Sino-US diplomatic relation. 30 years ago, Chinese and US leaders used the extraordinary wisdom and courage to drive the globe with ping-pang ball, breaking the barrier of ice and reopen the door to resume contacts between the two countries. Since the two countries have officially established diplomatic relations in 1979 and under the joint efforts of the leaders and people of the two countries, China-US relationship has developed into the most important, vigorous and vital bilateral relationship in today's world. Today, high-level exchanges between the two sides continued, the national leaders of the two countries met several times a year and maintain a hotline link. More than 60 negotiation mechanisms have been established between the two countries, including the strategic and economic dialogue mechanism and in a series of issues involving the vital bilateral and international interests for a constructive dialogue and cooperation. Like the US Midwest states, 18 provinces, municipality and autonomous regions from China's Midwest area enjoy vast land, unique natural and cultural landscape, rich natural resources and huge development potential. They look forward to strengthen the exchange with the US Midwest regions in economic and trade, environmental protection, energy, etc, to achieve mutual benefit and win-win progress. The Chinese government always attaches importance to the development of central and western regions in the "Ninth Five-Year Plan" and "Eleventh Five-Year Plan" the "West Exploration" and "Rise of Central China" as an important national economic and social development strategy. At present, China Eastern, Central and Western regional development gap's historical existence and over-expansion is a long plagued comprehensive issue in China's sound social and economic development. To support economic development in central and western regions and to achieve coordinated development of eastern and western regions is an important work of the government's economic policy. ....
