<<护航亚丁湾>>

内容概要

As the ship moved forward , propelled by its diesel engine , a plume of light smoke emerged from the funnel , only to be whipped away by the sea wind. At the stern her huge propellers churned up the sea , leaving wave upon wave of white foam in the ship ' s wake.

章节摘录

The ship was swaying violently which made our way along the gangways rather difficult , and I felt unsteady on my feet. There were few people in the mess : many had lost all appetite , but the four of us sharing a cabin managed to get there and eat breakfast. The escort missions started coming thick and fast. At 06 : 10 and then at 11 : 00 , Haikou and Wuhan began the third and fourth missions , sailing respectively from Bab el Mandeb Strait and the eastern Gulf of Aden. This is the first time Wuhan and Haikou have carried out independent escort ops and sailed in opposite directions. Haikou is scheduled to reach her destination on the night of January 16 and Wuhan to reach hers on the morning of January 17. The escorting distance is about 500 sea miles. This time the three vessels to be escorted are all from Hong Kong. Haikou will escort Maersky Evan , sailing abreast of her; Wuhan will escort Zhiqiang and Thor Svendborg in a single column formation. Apparently the crew of Maersky Evan come from China , UK , Sri Lanka , Romania , Poland and the Philippines. It is the ship with the largest number of nationalities we've escorted so far. ....
