章节摘录

版权页：When I came back to the front we still lived in that town. There were many more guns in the country around and the spring had come. The fields were green and there were small green shoots on the vines, the trees along the road had small leaves and a breeze came from the sea I saw the town with the hill and the old castle above it in a cude in the hills with the mountains beyond, brown mountains with a little green on their slopes. In the town there were more guns there were some new hospitals, you met British men and sometimes women, on the street, and a few more houses had been hit by shell fire It was warm and like the spring and I walked down the alleyway of trees, warmed from the sun on the wall, and found we still lived in the same house and that it all looked the same as when I had left it.
