章节摘录

Cars are used for business. They are driven to offices and factories by workers who have no other ways to get to their jobs. When salesmen are sent to different parts of the city , they have to drive in order to carry their products. Farmers have to drive into the city in order to get supplies. Sometimes small children must be driven to school. In some cities school buses are used only when children live no more than a mile away from the school. When the children are too young to walk too far , their mothers take turns driving them to school. One mother drives on Mondays taking her own children and the neighbors' children as well. Another mother drives on Tuesdays , another on Wednesdays , and so on. This is called forming a car pool. Men also form car pools , with three or four men taking turns driving to the place where they all work. More car pools should be formed in order to put fewer cars on the road and use less gas. Too many cars are being driven. Something will have to be done about the use of cars.
