<<论文写作>>

内容概要

Writing , as Francis Bacon says , makes one precise. This precision not only refers to what is overtly called speech , an entity right in front of one's naked eyes , but also to what stays covert , thinking , an ability of mind to breed out thoughts and to transfer them into linear words. It is not uncommon for one to be able to write in its general sense , but it is of particular difference if one wants to write precisely along with specific contents.
