章节摘录

W : What are you reading , Bill ?

M : Its this weeks New Scientist. Why ?

W : I was just wondering. It looks interesting. But Ive never actually read myself.Its for real scientists , or can ordinary people hke me understand it ?

M : Always for anyone , really. It usually has articles or stories about current affairsabout science , as well as papers about new development in research. Im read-ing about new telephone that allows you to see the person you are speaking to. W : Oh , I heard about it. Is it on the market yet ?

Can I buy one ?

M : No. Not this one. But the company has made other models to try out on busi-ness. This one is special because its color and image is moving. W : Oh , thats interesting , M : You see the first video phones. Thats what they are called when made in Japan.But they can only show still black and white image. So this video phone is muchbetter than that. Mind you , Im not sure I want one , would you ?

W : Well , no , I dont think I would. I bet it costs a lot of money. Did it say howmuch it costs ?

M : Yes. The black and white one costs several hundreds pounds. But the one thestory is about costs several thousands pounds. W : Hmm , why does anybody want one , do you think ?
