前言

目前高中英语教学中各类学校采用了不同种类的教材(国家、各省市),但相对重点中学的同学而言,大部分教材略显简单。

《高中英语拓展读本》的编写旨在服务于对英语学习有深度要求的同学,因此所选内容相对现行通用教材,在难度上有较大幅度的提高,同时对高中阶段有意提高英语水平的同学和有英语竞赛需求的同学也会有一定的辅导作用。

《高中英语拓展读本》可以配合现行通用的教材,通过欣赏美文、品味经典、解析语言结构、扩充词汇量、加强听力训练、扩大信息输入等途径,满足同学们拓展知识面、提升英语素养的需求。

读本包含12个单元,每个单元包括两个阅读篇章和一个经典选段欣赏。

每个单元呈现一个主题,涉及理想信念、家庭情感、户外旅游、文化艺术、礼仪风俗、动物植物、学校教育、体育精神、伟人生平、现代科学等。

所选文本内容与现行通用的教材不重复,而在信息输入量上有明显增加,以起到拓宽眼界,增加阅读量和词汇量之目的。

在每个单元的开始,由两个思考题将同学们引入主题,以帮助大家做好阅读前的准备。

为方便同学们的学习,在所有阅读篇章后附有单词表、词组表及注解。

对每个单元的第一阅读篇章配有以下几个方面的练习: 1. 朗读与翻译 在阅读篇章中,节选短小有趣的段落,让同学们高声朗读,甚至背诵,然后尝试将段落译成通顺的中文。

2. 阅读理解 针对阅读篇章设计了问题或判断题,让同学们用阅读中所获得的信息具体完整地回答这些问题,或选出问题的最佳答案,或做出正误判断。

3. 生词学习 针对生词表中的部分生词编写了促进生词理解的练习。

这些句子以缺词的形式出现,让同学们在理解全句的基础上,从所给单词的表格中选出合适的生词填入句子,使其完整。

4. 语法结构梳理 在阅读篇章中选出若干涉及某个语法的句型,引导同学们关注这种结构,然后根据对单句的理解,进行语法解答。

在书后附设的参考答案中,对该语法结构作详尽的解释。

5. 翻译 针对阅读篇章中的单词和词组,编写了中文句子,让同学们将它们逐句译成英文。

1.D 2.A 3.C Face-lift for the Olympics A phoenix is rising from the ashes of a battered Beijing. With less than a year into the start of the Olympics , the Chinese capital is being given a twenty billion-euro face-lift. No matter where you go , you're surrounded by cranes and scaffolding. There are currently more building sites in Beijing than in the whole of Europe. The Olympics is a perfect excuse for the authorities to turn a slumbering Beijing into a 21st century capital. The country is undergoing a rapid development. On the one hand , the historical districts of Beijing must be preserved , This must go preserved with the modernization of the city. Some of the changes would of course affect the layout of the city. For example , widening the roads will obviously cause the destruction of old houses. As the standard of living increases though , we are obliged to modernize these traditional residences. But for many Beijingers this modernization is a bitter pill to swallow. Tens of thousands have been evicted from their homes. Nothing has come off them though the majority of traditional districts are still being destroyed. It's necessary to make space to accommodate the symbols of new Beijing , an opera house , an Olympic stage and towering office blocks. Of the old city little remains other than a few houses , and these completely renovated , When I was young , we had to burn charcoal to stay warm during the colder months. I remember it burning my eyes. Today though the government has renovated these districts and installed electricity and running water. It's much more practical. Hutong has become even more beautiful. More than a hundred million euros a year are currently earmarked for heritage protection. But many don't think it's enough and the government should be spending more to safeguard the city's history. One hopes that the democratic spirit-the spirit of culture and heritage protection will increase and improve. We need to protect this city's heritage and sometimes it's necessary to fight for this. On the countdowns , completion has already started. There are just three hundred days left for the excavators to finish their work , just enough time for the dust to settle before the Olympics. The authority is guaranteeing the work will be completed in plenty of time for the opening ceremony. Listening Two
A. Choices 1.B 2.A 3.C Buy a Football Club Liverpool fans welcomed the new American owners last year. Tom Hicks and George Gillett promised money for top players , money for a new stadium and promised they were in it for the long haul. Liverpool is getting a new ground and has signed a few players.

The one of Europe's premier soccer teams is currently out of the top four. Fans are fed up with the growing debts and rumors the Americans want to replace popular coach Rafael Benitez. The solution : buy the club themselves. At the upper level nobody has attempted a buyout like this , in fact anyone in the UK. And I think Liverpool people quite like , quite like doing things no one has done before. A number of smaller England clubs are already fan-owned and one Ebbsfleet United was just bought for 1.7 million dollars by thousands of members of a football fan website. Each will soon be able to vote on team's strategy through the Internet. Some big continental clubs like Barcelona are also owned by supporters , but the trend in England lately has been for wealthy businessmen to take over , Viet-American Malcolm Glazer at Manchester United , or , former Thai Prime Minister Thaksin Shinawatra at Manchester City , or , Englishman Brian Ecclestone buying struggling QPR. Could Liverpool really go the other way ?

I struggle to see how commercially it will work at the higher levels. It has been tried in the past with some of the administrations and some of the football league clubs. They have the supporters' power and the supporters' representative on the board. But when you get in the higher levels of , you know , 200 million a year , Manchester United and above , then it really would be a drop.
