章节摘录

Advertisements introduce us to new products or remind us of the existence of ones we already know about. Supposing you wanted to buy a washing machine , it is more than likely you would obtain details regarding performance , price , etc. , from an advertisement. Lots of people pretend that they never read advertisements , but this claim may be seriously doubted. It is hardly possible not to read advertisements these days. And what fun they often are , too! Just think what a railway station or a newspaper would be like without advertisements. Would you enjoy gazing at a blank wall or reading railway byelaws while waiting for a train? Would you like to read only closely printed columns of news in your daily paper? A cheerful , witty advertisement makes such a difference to a drab wail or a newspaper full of the daily ration of calamities. We must not forget , either , that advertising makes a positive contribution to our pockets. Newspapers , commercial radio and television companies could not subsist without this source of revenue. The fact that we pay so little for our daily paper , or can enjoy so many broadcast programmes is due entirely to the money spent by advertisers. Just think what a newspaper would cost if we had to pay its full price! Another thing we mustnt forget is the "small ads." which are in virtually every newspaper and magazine. What a tremendously useful service they perform for the community! Just about anything can be accomplished through these columns. For instance , you can find a job , buy or sell a house , announce a birth , marriage or death in what used to be called the hatch , match and dispatch column but by far the most fascinating section is the personal or "agony" column. No other item in a newspaper provides such entertaining reading or offers such a deep insight into human nature. Its the best advertisement for advertising there is!

27. The attitude of the author toward advertisers is A. appreciative B. trustworthy C. critical D. dissatisfactory

28. Why do the critics criticize advertisers? A. Because advertisers often brag. B. Because critics think advertisement is a "waste of money". C. Because customers are encouraged to buy more than necessary. D. Because customers pay more.

29. Which of the following is NOT true? A. Advertisement makes contribution to our pockets and we may know everything. B. We can buy what we want. C. Good quality products dont need to be advertised. D. Advertisement makes our life colorful.

30. The passage is ___ A. Narration B. Description C. Criticism D. Argumentation (B)

My parents knew their wealth: each other , their six children , and their faith. They tried to live simple lives so that they could have time for what was most important. They didnt busy themselves buying a bigger house , because that would mean working harder to pay the monthly mortgage , working overtime or taking second job. Who would go running with me then? Who would read stories to me? They didnt burden themselves with buying an expensive car because that would mean worrying about installment bills. Besides , walking to the shopping centre every Saturday afternoon with me gave my dad his needed exercise , and made me feel so special.

One of my hearts delights was seeing Dad and Morn in their bedroom at night , after our nightly family prayer. The lights were turned off , and Id see the figure of my father seated on his old chair and Mom standing behind him , gently massaging his shoulders. Id hear them talk about what happened during their day. Even as a child , I sensed their quiet pleasure in being together. My question today: Could they have done this rich ritual each night and nourished their marriage if they had been busy paying for expensive clothes for themselves or their kids , or if they had been worrying about monthly bills for new hi-tech equipment? I dont think so. And Ive made a choice: I dont want that of life either.

31. Which of the following is TRUE about the authors family? A. There were six people in the family. B. They decided to buy a bigger house. C. They lived an easy and happy life. D. They had a second-hand car.

32. What did the parents regularly do with the author? A. They wrote stories together. B. They read newspapers together. C. They regularly took exercise together. D. They went shopping together each day.

33. The author believed that his/her parents happiness was due to ___ o A. their attitude towards life B. their love for each other C. their common interests D. their ability to communicate with each other

34. It can be inferred from the last paragraph that the author __ A. got bored with his/her parents way of educating kids B. was influenced by his/her parents lifestyle C. didnt want to follow his/her parents advice D. didnt want to live the same life as his/her parents (c) The CEO of Apple , Steve Jobs story about death When I was 17 , I read a quote that went something like : "If you live each day as if it were your last , someday youll most certainly be right." It made an impression on me , and since then , for the past 33 years , I have looked in the mirror every morning and asked myself , "If today were the last day of my life , would I want to do what I am about to do today? " Remembering that Ill be dead soon is the most important tool Ive ever encountered to help me make the big choices in life. About a year ago I was diagnosed with cancer. The doctors told me this was almost certainly a type of cancer that was incurable , and that I would live no longer than three to six months. My doctor advised me to go home and get my affairs in order , which is doctor code for preparing yourself to die. I lived with that diagnosis all day. I was completely in despair. Later that evening I had another biopsy and my wife told me that tumor turned out to be curable with surgery. I had the surgery and Im fine now. This was the closest Ive been to facing death. To tell the truth , no one wants to die. And yet death is the destination we all share. No one has ever escaped it. It clears out the old to make room for the new. Right now the new is you , but someday not too long from now , you will gradually become the old and be cleared away. Your time is so limited that you shouldnt waste it repeating someone else life. Dont be trapped by dogma—which is living with the results of other people thinking. Dont let the noise of others opinions drown out your own inner voice. And most important , have the courage to follow your heart. It somehow already knows what you truly want to become. Everything else is secondary.

35. The doctor advised the author to go home and get his affairs in order because __ A. he had to rest at home B. his disease couldnt be cured C. his disease was not serious at all D. he had to wait for the result of the rest

36 , How did the author feel after the diagnosis? A. Calm B. Excited C. Hopeless D. Optimistic

37. How did the author think of death? A. He thinks it is nothing to be scared of B. He thinks it is impossible to avoid C. He thinks it is not the end of life D. He thinks it is the beginning of a new life

38. In the authors opinion , we should __ A. follow others advice B. do what we want C. keep a positive attitude towards life D. take exercise and keep healthy

III .Translation Directions : Translate the following passage into Chinese. The method of scientific investigation is nothing but the expression of the necessary mode of working of the human mind; it is simply the mode by which all phenomena are reasoned about and given precise and exact explanation. There is no more difference , but there is just the same kind of difference , between the mental operations of a man of science and those of an ordinary person , as there is between the operations and methods of a baker or of a butcher weighing out his goods in common scales , and the operations of a chemist in performing a difficult and complex analysis by means of his balance and finely graded weights.

IV. Writing 以 On Oil Price Increase 为题 , 写一篇长为 120-150 词的小作文。
