<<伟大的建筑师 Great Archite>>

内容概要

in this book a revision is proposed of the architecture of the last decade of the twentieth century, by means of the most well-known professionals and some of their emblematic works. Although in many cases the projects chosen are of a great scale, some of minor scale have been introduced due to the fact that they have become significant within the trajectory of a specific author. All of this allows us to offer a double reading of a theme: the first allows us to present the projects of the last decade in order to show the world architectural panorama, and the second, to present some of the most significant works of an architect so as to offer a first vision of his professional development.
