内容概要

Interior architect Esther Gutmer lived in the United States from 1980 to 1986, where she fell in love with the concept that Ralph Lauren had introduced with his "Home Collection": living as an art, with fully furnished interiors revealing the designer's inspiration and sense of perfection. Upon her return to Europe, Esther Gutmer decided to transfer this home-design culture to the country of her birth. Over two decades later, Esther Gutmer's studio, which now has ten employees, architects and interior designers, has grown to become a point of reference in the field of contemporary classic interiors. She has created and coordinated many exclusive private interiors, and also has a variety of retail projects to her name.
